For her nuptials the bride was gowned in white peau de soie. Her Queen Anne gown had a scalloped neckline and was trimmed with Chantilly lace and pearls.

She wore an illusion veil and pearl tiara. Her bouquet of stephanotis, a white orchid and fall leaves was attached to a white prayer book.

Mrs. Westler Friske, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a silk chiffon apricot-colored gown with "burnt orange" sash.

James Gravatte was best man. James C. Roberts and Westler Friske were ushers.

Mother's Outfit

Mrs. Roberts wore a French crepe sheath of royal blue color and wore matching accessories.

After the wedding ceremony the couple was feted at a reception in the Penguin Room at Marineland.

The bride wore a red suit and matching hat with black accessories for her going-away outfit.

The new Mrs. Mabe is a graduate of Banning High School and has been employed as a hostess for TransWorld Airlines.

Her husband attended school in West Virginia and is employed in TWA's Washington, D.C., flight operations office.

The couple will reside in Carrollton, Md.
